4. Short description

This amazing cat not only looks lifelike, but they also have authentic sounds, a soothing buckle and feels like a real kitten! The robot cat has a nice soft coat. In addition, the cat responds to movement, but also to petting and cuddling; This is due to the built-in sensors. Pet the cat on the back of her head or back, then she will spin happily. Of course, the cat should also relax. She will do this during a cuddle session. She closes her eyes and enjoyment can begin. If the kitten is not petted for a few minutes, the eyes will also close and she will go to sleep. With a pat on the back, she wakes up. With friendly meow, attention is occasionally requested. This pet is specially developed for the care of the elderly, but is certainly also intended for everyone else. It's a pet for everyone! Under the fur on her stomach is an on-off switch and an ability to turn off the sound. Works on 4 x C (LR14) alkaline batteries (included). This interactive cat is a pet from the series of the Joy for All Hasbro Companion Pets.

Interacting with your cat

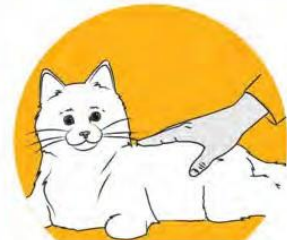

Your cat will respond differently depending on where you touch it.

Pet the cat's left cheek and it will move its head toward your hand.

Pet the back of the cat's head and/or its back and your cat will purr happily.

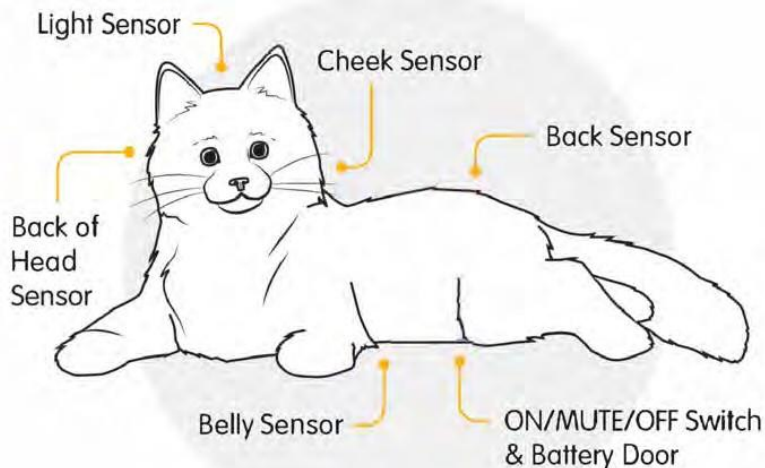

The more you pet your cat, the more relaxed it will get. It might even close its eyes and seem to snooze!

If you keep petting your cat, it will roll on its back so you can pet its belly.

If you don't touch your cat for few minutes, it will go to sleep. To wake it up simply give it a gentle pat on the back.
