7. Commissioning

You need to charge your lamp before use. The charging point is located at the bottom of the lamp. A small red light lights up (visible in the dark) when the item is charging, it turns green when charging is complete. Charging takes about 3 hours.

To use your lamp, press the power button at the bottom of the lamp. As soon as the lamp lights up, you can now control it with the remote control. Use the remote control to adjust brightness and change the order for changing colours. To use the remote control, remove the plastic film protruding from the battery compartment. The lamp can also be switched on and off with the remote control. (If you use more than one piece of furniture, they can work with the same remote control at the same time: they can be kept to the same colour, or they can be separated when turned on to vary the colours).
